Makes sense. I'll get this agreement to you.

Hi Kevin,

Hopefully you are feeling better.

We are paying for the cell service and you are paying for electricity. It didn't make sense to try and reconcile what will probably be a few hundred extra on our end every year. I have been trying to see if there are additional costs but I haven't received a clear answer. This agreement at least allows me to get a purchase order going so that they can put our order together. If there are substantial costs still out there hopefully it will be OK to come back with a separate agreement?

Hi Brian,

It's been a whirlwind week so far, and I'm just getting around to reading the terms of agreement you earlier dropped off. Just to confirm/inquire on a few things:

* Duarte is paying the monthly costs for the cell service?

* Bradbury's share is $15,658.50, which matches with the Vigilant quote for one camera. However, Vigilant's quote doesn't cover instillation. Does this mean Duarte is picking up full costs of instillation for both cameras?

Thanks,

Kevin
